DIRIGIBLE ZR-3 PASSES AZORES ON LONG VOYAGE FROM GERMANY TO U.S.

Traveling at Good Speed in Westerly Direction When Sighted by Islanders; Weather Disturbance in Mid-Atlantic Reported; Student in Germany Who Planned to Kill Pilot Arrested.

Horta, Azores, Oct. 13.—The giant dirigible ZR-3 passed Fayal at 2.35 o'clock this afternoon, local time, on her way to Lakehurst, N. J., from Friedrichshafen, Germany. She was flying in a westerly direction, traveling at good speed.

Apparently all was well on board the airship, which was clearly outlined against the sky. The weather was fine, with a northerly breeze blowing.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A moderate disturbance in the mid-Atlantic was reported practically in the path of the ZR-3 by the naval ships on observation duty in connection with the transatlantic flight. The latest forecast was relayed by the United States cruiser Milwaukee.

ATTEMPT FOILED
Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 12.—A few hours before the Zeppelin ZR-3 started for the United States the police arrested a Westphalian student, armed with a carbine, who had intended to kill Dr. Karl E. Eckener, director of the Zeppelin work and pilot of the airship, and thus prevent the airship's delivery to the United States.

Before the airship left here it was searched for stowaways and its tanks were filled with fresh water.

AIR TOO MOIST
The start of the flight was postponed from Saturday morning to Sunday morning because of moisture in the air. Zeppelin authorities declared dirigibles for transatlantic use should hereafter have a capacity of at least 100,000 cubic metres.

The ZR-3 is at 30,000 cubic metres ship, the largest capacity permissible under an international agreement. Tests showed the dirigible was considerably overloaded, a conservative estimate of the excess burden being two tons.

It had been found nearly impossible to ascend in a moist atmosphere with a rising temperature, and benzine and other ballast could not be jettisoned because of the necessity of keeping all the stores on hand and reckoning with possible calamities.

For this reason the starting hour was postponed. Cool weather gives the airship more lifting power.

MACLEAN SEEKS TO CUT TAX BURDEN BY SIMPLE COLLECTION
To Ask Federal Government to Unify All Collecting Agencies

To Demand Recognition of Provincial Rights at Tax Conference
Provincial taxation rights and plans for the unification of federal, provincial and municipal income tax collection machinery will be pressed by British Columbia at the Dominion conference on taxation in Ottawa starting November 11, Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, announced to-day.

The Province will not be represented at the conference, the Finance Minister explained, as the House will be in session during the meeting takes place, but a carefully prepared memorandum setting forth British Columbia's views will be laid before the delegates.

"British Columbia," says a statement issued by Dr. MacLean, "will press for a clear definition of the respective fields of taxation between the federal and provincial authorities. The question of a single tax collecting agency for both Governments will be advocated. It will be remembered that the late Minister of Finance, the Honorable John Hart, had advocated, in fact was the first public man in Canada to advance such a plan."

The income tax in British Columbia is one of the oldest and most important sources of revenue the Province has to rely upon, being in existence since 1882. The only other provinces in Canada collecting income at the present time are Prince Edward Island and Manitoba, the latter having introduced it in 1912.

FINE NEW CRAFT BEING COMPLETED FOR COAST ROUTE

Capt. C. D. Neroutsos Received Word From Captain Troup To-day

First Engineer W. E. W. Oliver Has Left to Bring Ship to Victoria

Word was received to-day from Capt. C. D. Neroutsos, of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service, that the launching of the Princess Kathleen at Clydebank, Scotland, by John Brown and Company, on Saturday, September 27, was in every way a success.

Captain Troup was present at the ceremony. Lady Mount-Stephen christened the vessel. Lord Abernethy, chairman of the firm of John Brown & Co., was also present, with other distinguished guests.

Capt. Troup, explaining the Pacific coasting services of the C.P.R., following the launching, said the Princess Kathleen was intended for the triangular route between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. That route was, he added, 270 nautical miles in length, and it was run once every twenty-four hours.

The vessels at present on the service had a speed of eighteen knots, but the two new steamers, with a speed of twenty-one knots, should reduce the run by half an hour.

The second of the new ships, the Princess Marguerite, is also building now and should be ready for the water in a short space of time. The Kathleen is having her engines installed.

THE NEW VESSEL

The Princess Kathleen is a twin-screw steamer, 368 feet long, sixty feet in molded breadth, twenty-eight feet nine inches in depth to the upper deck, seventeen feet load draft, 6,000 tons gross weight, 22½ knots trial speed and twenty-one knots service speed.

CHINESE LABORERS BUY FORGED PASSPORTS FOR ADMISSION TO CANADA

Sums of $1,000 Gold and $2,700 in Chinese Funds Paid for Single "Return Ticket" to Canadian Soil; Dupes Arrive to Find Their Purchase Good Only for Canadian Jail, With Six Months Stay and Deportation as a Prospect.

A commercial speculation, having as its theme the smuggling of Chinese into Canada by means of false certificates of registration, operated in a wholesale manner was uncovered in the city police court to-day when nine Chinamen were brought under Immigration guard for trial on charges of attempting to enter the country against the terms of the Immigration Act.

Chow Sang, the first on the list, received trial and a sentence of six months imprisonment, while the remaining accused were remanded until Wednesday for hearing.

In outlining the case for the Crown J. H. Clearhouse explained that the Government sought action to check what appeared to be a wholesale fraud. The scheme, he indicated, had its original possibly in Victoria, or perhaps in China itself, but the results of it were undoubted.

UNABLE TO CATCH FRAUD PERPETRATORS
It was an unfortunate feature of the case that the Crown could not get at the real perpetrators of the fraud, but could only punish those taking advantage of the scheme. Putting the dupes in jail, he intimated, was an indirect way of hitting at the real perpetrators of the fraud.

He would suggest that a prison term would do much to that end.

For the defence T. M. Miller and W. C. Moreby submitted that the actions of the accused, and his companions in general, was in ignorance. Nothing wilfully wrong could be imputed to the accused in this case, and the defence had nothing to say beyond that, concluded Mr. Miller.

Mr. Moreby went further. The Department of Immigration was acting within its rights in the detection and stoppage of a fraud, if such it were. The defence would submit, he said, that the system had been brought about by an organization in China of a body of men who were out to "hook" innocent laborers and others wishing to come to Canada.

FOR LONG A FIGURE IN EUROPE; LATE ANATOLE FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 13.—Anatole France died in Tours last night.

His death created a profound impression throughout the country and the newspapers to-day printed columns about his life and works.

The aged writer's long struggle against death had been watched with intense interest and admiration. His vitality amazed the physicians. Weeks ago they announced that his end was but a question of hours, yet he held his own and even made surprising rallies.

Almost to the last he maintained consciousness and lucidity. Only yesterday he sank into semi-consciousness, murmuring in faint voice, "I am dying," and calling for his mother.

A few days ago he himself expressed the conviction that he had but a few hours of life remaining.

The end came peacefully without a struggle, shortly before midnight, in the presence of his wife and his faithful physician, while Lucien Psychari, his little grandson, who is also the grandson of the late Ernest Renan, slept in an adjoining room.

In the passing of Anatole France there is lost to France and to the whole world the genius of a man who during the past fifty years, has been without a rival. He wrote for France, but he wrote for all men, and the world united in commending him in heartfelt phrases on the occasion of his eightieth birthday, April 16, 1874.

UNIONS IN BRITAIN SUPPORT CANDIDATES

Miners and Railwaymen Among Groups Who Seek Election to Commons

London, Oct. 13.—A review of the activities of organized labor in the political campaign preceding the general election in Great Britain reveals that the Miners' Federation, the most powerful organization politically of all the unions, which held forty-three seats of the coal fields in the late House of Commons, will concentrate its campaign on the re-election of these men, with perhaps an effort to gain three or four more seats which appear fair game for the miners.

The railwaymen have eleven members in the late Commons, including Colonial Secretary J. H. Thomas. The Railway Clerks' Association had seven members.

John Bromley, secretary of the Locomotive Engineers' Union, is again contesting Barrow.

Joseph Devlin will probably run again in the Liverpool Exchange Division, making another effort to gain that seat for the Irish Nationalists.

AGREEMENT OPPOSED
The Liverpool Conservatives, who are highly organized, have declared against any agreement with the Liberals, whatever may happen in other parts of the country.

The Laborites profess faith in their ability to hold the two Liberal seats in the last two years. One of these was held by J. H. Hayes, an ex-official of the Policemen's Union, who defeated the Conservatives in the last election.

DEFEATED CHEKIANG TROOPS AT SHANGHAI ARE FORCED TO SIGN ARMISTICE TERMS

Forces Retreat in Confusion After Failure of Their Defence of City; If Terms Strip Chekiang Military Governor of His Power Central Government at Peking Will Extend Jurisdiction to Shanghai District.

Shanghai, Oct. 13.—Chekiang forces holding defence lines west of Shanghai, unaware of the fact that they were fighting for a lost cause, uninformed that an armistice had been signed last night in which their leader virtually admitted defeat, continued firing into the enemy lines this afternoon.

Shanghai, Oct. 13.—Their defeated armies retreating in confusion towards Shanghai, General Lu Yung-Hsiang, military governor of Chekiang Province, and his chief aide, General Ho Feng-Liang, Defence Commissioner of Shanghai, to-day announced they had signed an armistice with the invading Kiangsu forces representing the Central Government of China.

Generals Ho and Lu, who had led the defence forces fighting west and south of Shanghai for the past six weeks, to-day sought refuge in the foreign concession while a report was in circulation here that they had been bribed to betray their leaders.

While the Chekiang army was retreating towards the environs of Shanghai, every unit of the foreign defence forces in the city was drawn up along the boundaries of the foreign settlement to put up a defence against any attempt on the part of Kiangsu troops to enter the concession.

The confusion in military quarters led to the signing of the armistice made it impossible to weigh the benefits to the central Government forces. If the terms of the true strip the Chekiang military governor of his power, the result is a victory for the central Government, which will now extend its jurisdiction to the district surrounding Shanghai.

The Chekiang military governor, opposed to the central Government, had been ruling Shanghai and Chekiang provinces without a warrant of his power.

CHEAP MOTOR CARS
Shanghai, Oct. 13.—A train to-day from Nansiang, twelve miles west of here, brought in 300 Chekiang soldiers, who, when apprised of the turn of events in the field, joined other Chekiang troops at the railway station north of here, where an impromptu auction of clothing and equipment was held. Several military motor cars were knocked down to bidders for $10 and upwards.

SEATTLE TO GREET CRUISING DIRIGIBLE

Shenandoah is Expected to Pass Over Sound City on Wednesday

Seattle, Oct. 13.—It is expected Seattle on Wednesday will witness the making of aviation history for the second time in less than three weeks, when the United States big navy dirigible Shenandoah sails over the city, on her way to the Camp Lewis military reservation, where the first voyage of a lighter-than-air ship across the continent will end.

The airship is undergoing repairs to her framework, made necessary by an accident while landing at San Diego Friday night. She is to resume her northerly flight to-morrow.

GREAT INTEREST
With the memory of the completion of the first aeroplane flight around the world at Sand Point Bay, Sept. 24, still fresh in the minds of the thousands who witnessed that historic event, great interest is attached to the coming of the Shenandoah. It will mark the completion of the first transcontinental cruise by a dirigible and will give the city its first sight of this arm of the nation's fighting forces which, through the present voyage, may pave the way for future commercial airways across the United States.

Leaving San Diego, the Shenandoah will follow the Pacific Coast line to Astoria, Ore., where the ship will turn east over Portland and then north to Seattle. After sailing over this city she will swing south to her mooring mast at Lakeview near Camp Lewis, completing the last leg of her westward journey.

RADIO STATION
The establishment of a radio station near the Camp Lewis mast by Capt. Edwin S. Ferrand, United States Army signal officer at Camp Lewis, was announced to-day.

VOYAGE OF VESSEL WAS DRUNKEN BRAWL

coastguard cutter Seneca sighted her floating aimlessly on the waters about forty miles off New York without a helmsman.

SHOTS WERE FIRED

When the Seneca came upon the Segatind just before dawn Sunday, the lookout of the cutter hailed the ship. No answer being received the Seneca fired three shots across her bow. Still there was no sign of life aboard the Segatind.

NURSED THEIR INJURIES

The Customs men clambered over the side and looked about the deck cautiously, half expecting to be fired upon. They saw no one on deck, but a search disclosed two sailors asleep in the wheelhouse, seemingly drunk. Below decks they found the rest of the crew.

Some were asleep, some were in their bunks cursing with the pain of broken bones and some were staggering about in a drunken stupor. Nearly all were nursing black eyes.

CAPTAIN'S STORY

The captain was found locked in his cabin with twelve rifles and six revolvers beside his bunk. He explained that his ship, which is a 954-ton oil-burner of Norwegian registry, had left Antwerp for St. Pierre with a derelict crew and 100,000 cases of assorted liquor. Only 45,000 cases remained.

In the ship's safe Customs men found $28,000 in United States money.

The crew had made free with the liquor, he said, and before the ship was one day out the fighting began. Brawls continued all the way over, reaching a climax after the vessel anchored in "Rum Row."

ALL WERE DRUNK

The night they arrived everybody got drunk, three men broken down and one had his leg broken, two received broken arms and a score had their eyes blackened, he told the Customs men. He retired to his cabin to wait for the storm to subside.

While the captain was telling his story to Captain Blake, the other Customs men had driven the cursing, staggering gang of men below decks and made fast the hatches. The Segatind was then towed inside Sandy Hook, where a gunboat was placed over her to await the decision of officials as to her disposition.

MacLEAN SEEKS TO CUT TAX BURDEN

later having entered the field in 1923. It was not until the financial stress caused by the war that the Dominion Government seriously entered this field of taxation. The advent of this Dominion tax in British Columbia has been a serious financial burden for the taxpayers, and an attempt will be made to get a great modification in this impost as possible and a strenuous endeavor will be made to get the one collecting agency for both Governments.

TAX ON TRANSIENTS

"This Province being a stepping off point of the Orient, attracting export houses doing business through transient agents who earn large incomes and who carry large incomes in the Province but not having resident offices do not come under the provincial income tax, and an endeavor will be made to put this revenue to its source so that it will become taxable by the Province and will mean, if successful, a very large addition to our present collections."

"Other questions such as priority of taxes, the co-operation of the Dominion Government in collecting other sources of revenue at the bounties, taxes on fisheries by export houses and a clear definition of the rights of the Province to impose a tax by amendment of Section 92 of the B.N.A. Act, and to assign specifically to the Province certain subjects of taxation whether direct or indirect in order to provide a simpler criterion as to ultra vires and to effect a more equitable division between the Dominion and the provinces in the field of taxation."

The Province has a huge interest at stake in this conference and every endeavor will be made to clearly set forth our claims at the conference which we trust will bring about a more equitable basis as well as relief by spreading the burden of the present taxation system."

DELEGATES TO GENEVA HOPE TO SOLVE OPIUM PROBLEM

Japanese Representatives Pass Through Victoria En Route to Europe to Sit With Other National Delegates and Discuss Opium Situation; Express Hope for Satisfactory Solution.

Passengers on the Empress of Russia and on their way to Geneva, the Japanese delegation to the Opium Conference, which commences on November 3, passed through Victoria this morning. The party included S. Kaku, chief of the delegation, M. Miyajima, Y. Kasuna, A. Akoh and C. Okada. All are university men, trained to a high state of efficiency in diplomatic and economic work and closely in touch with the conditions relative to the opium traffic which is startling the world.

Speaking for the delegation to The Times representative to-day, Dr. Y. Kusama, one of the party as well as the duty of other nations of the world, to probe the wholesale drug traffic which was eating into China.

JAPAN DISINTERESTED

"We in Japan are not troubled with opium. We have only one use for this drug, and that is in our hospitals, for in Japan there is no such thing as a morphine addict, said Dr. Kusama.

"But although the problem does not affect us in one way, we feel that we have moral responsibilities. We go to Geneva to urge upon the rest of the world, Great Britain especially, to co-operate in smothering and stamping out a disreputable traffic in opium."

IS NOTED FIGURE

Dr. Kusama is a professor of bacteriology and hygiene at Keio University, Tokyo, and was educated in the United States. But he has made a careful study of the system of government and general economics, and has a clear insight into the Orient's major problems. He was chosen for his present task on account of his reputation as a fighter against opium in China.

"The flow of opium into China is practically unlimited, and comes, for the most part, from India," said Dr. Kusama. "True, there is a law prohibiting the importation of opium, but the Peking Government—what control can it exert? It has nothing to enforce this law. No; it is for the other countries of the world to step in and act in this matter and put an end to a custom which is working a terrible wrong in China. The British have taken steps already to stop the exportation of opium from India in such a wholesale manner, but smuggling continues. The coming conference at Geneva, however, will bring us a definite policy, and an ultimate victory after a long fight," said Dr. Kusama.

Regarding the conditions in America, Dr. Kusama asserted that he had little knowledge of the situation. But that it was nothing as compared with that of China, he was certain. In the Orient, however, the drug did not seem to have a destructive influence, although the results of its use were most deplorable. Dr. Kusama has hopes, however, that the opium conference will be an end to all the illegal trafficking in opium.

"We shall deliberate and form our policies from November 3 to December 10, and if within that time we have not solved the problem, it will be a strange thing. Representatives from practically every nation in the world will be at this conference, and when it is over and the question settled, we shall be satisfied that we have done our work well," concluded Dr. Kusama.

MOTORBOAT SURRENDERED

The motorboat worked slowly westward toward the Quadra, which, having sighted the Shawnee, attempted to make sail, her boilers being cold. The Shawnee quickly overtook the motorboat, which had cast off the first thrill into the adventure by firing a shot across the bow of another motorboat, which had cast off from the big Quadra and was speeding shoreward. The second motorboat came around at the shot and announced surrender. A small shipment of liquor was found aboard.

QUADRA BOARDED

The Shawnee put a boarding party aboard the Quadra. There was no resistance other than the refusal on the part of the skipper to tell his name, show his manifest or order the motorboat to stop. The Shawnee then put a line aboard the Quadra and keeping the motorboat under the black eye of the one-pounder, brought them both into port.

MESSAGE NOT RECEIVED

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—Because the swift steamer Quadra, supposed runner from Vancouver, B.C., failed to receive a perfectly innocent appearing wireless message yesterday, that somebody's grandmother was about to die or some other such report, Coastguard officials said, she is swinging at anchor in the stream off Fort Mason, well within the harbor, to-day, a prize of the long-drawn-out rum war, with thirty prisoners and a liquor cargo valued at $500,000 aboard. Two men from the crew of the coastguard cutter Shawnee, which effected the capture, and two more from the customs guard are aboard, keeping armed vigil over the crew and the skipper, who will not tell his name or reveal his ship's manifest. The disposition of boat, skipper and crew awaits the reopening of the British Consul-General's office to-morrow after to-day's holiday, as there are some international queries to be straightened out.

Swagger Styles in Fur-Trimmed Coats

The lavish use of fur and the beautiful fabrics give these Coats an exceptionally luxurious appearance. The furs are cleverly chosen to harmonize with the fabrics, the delightful suede-like, or soft, fleecy sport fabrics of the new season. Here the discerning woman will find quality of fabric and fur, combined with style-individuality that has an irresistible appeal to her good taste.

The prices are $49.50, $59.50 and $65.00

STORY OF CAPTURE

The adventure of the capture of the Quadra started without incident. The Shawnee put out of port at about 9.30 a.m. to capture anything in the rum running line that might be in sight.

The Quadra was boarded seven-and-one-half miles west of North Farrales Island.

SIGHT ANOTHER CRAFT

While engaged with the Quadra, the Shawnee sighted another big boat, believed to be the Principe, another supposed rum runner, steaming steadily westward, well outside the treaty limit, or the range of the one-pounder. She had evidently caught the wireless message that the Quadra had missed.

"These wireless messages are sent from amateur shore service stations," Capt. Howell, commander of the Shawnee, explained. "The rum runners never send one in return. They merely receive. Innocent messages are going to the hall game, fill the air every time the Shawnee gets ready to put out. That is why we are rarely able to find anything. They know we are going out before we start, and they just steam out of sight, until the coast is clear."

Lady Maria Decies Living in Poverty

London, Oct. 13.—Lady Maria Gertrude Decies, widow of the Fourth Baron Decies and sister-in-law of the present Baron, who married Helen Vivian Gould, is said by The Daily Mirror to be living in poverty, making an insufficient livelihood by keeping a small village store near East Grinstead.

She is quoted as saying she has not a penny except what she makes in her store and that she is sometimes hungry owing to the smallness of her income. She declares she lost all her money in helping another and that she would be grateful to anyone providing her with remunerative employment.

WOMAN ENDED LIFE

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Mrs. C. Middleton, formerly a patient in a local mental hospital, committed suicide on Sunday by shooting herself. She used a revolver.

DOWN TO FACTS

SOME TIME AGO THE Vancouver Board of Trade appointed a committee to investigate the effect which frequent race meets are having upon the economic life of the Terminal City. It has completed its inquiry and is about to present a resolution for the consideration of the Board in full session.

The committee emphasizes the fact that in Toronto, with a population of 650,000, there are four tracks with eight weeks' racing in the year; in Montreal, with a population of 953,000, there are seven tracks with fourteen weeks' racing; in Winnipeg, with a population of 250,000 and two tracks, the ponies are played for four weeks. Victoria's season this year was four weeks and Vancouver's six weeks!

The committee also finds that an average of $91,393 was bet each day of the Victoria-Vancouver season—or an average of $52 per person each day, or $7.43 for each person on every race. This total amount of money was represented by: $8,031,330 in 1,515,665 $2 bets; $112,475 in 112,475 $1 bets; $1,762,870 in 352,574 $5 bets; $994,770 in 99,447 $10 bets; $496,120 in 24,806 $20 bets.

It is likewise emphasized that out of a total of approximately 500 horses used on the Victoria and Vancouver tracks this season more than seventy-five per cent. came from the United States and the greater part from outside British Columbia. This fact, the investigating committee observes, "altogether refutes the arguments advanced that racing as carried on here tends to act as an encouraging influence on the breeding of stock."

The short way to give effect to what is now obviously the will of the people of this Province, particularly of Victoria and Vancouver, is an amendment to the law which would provide that, regardless of the number of racing associations, there shall be only a certain number of days' racing in each place, the number to be governed by the size of the city.

In any event it has now been proven beyond all doubt that neither Victoria nor Vancouver can afford to bet millions which should be circulating in the legitimate channels of trade and commerce.

HALF THE TALE

THE TORONTO STAR can not see how liquor is being controlled in British Columbia, if, taking the year ending with June last year as an example, private parties import a greater bulk of intoxicating liquors than the Liquor Control Board.

Our eastern contemporary supports its argument with figures from the Customs Department at Ottawa; these show that for the period mentioned the Government imported 120,831 gallons as compared with 124,066 gallons imported by "private parties."

The figures are easily explained. For the most part liquor imported by "private parties" is liquor imported by exporting agencies. In the 1922-1923 period referred to by our eastern contemporary no less than thirty-five warehouses were being operated by these concerns. Some of them did not export all their stocks; they broke the law by doing business within the Province. It took a good deal of time and investigation to run the culprits down; eventually, however, many of them gave up the ghost and joined forces. Instead of thirty-five there are now only five warehouses and their activities are fairly well confined to the channels prescribed by law. It is not to say that some of the liquor "imported for export" is not sold in British Columbia; but for the most part it leaves the Province.

In its endeavor to show to the people of Ontario that the Liquor Control Act of British Columbia is something approaching a misnomer, The Star has overlooked the fact that its chief complaint about the system in this Province would have had no force at this stage if the Canadian Senate had passed the measure—twice approved by Parliament—which would have vested the sole right of importation in the provincial Government.

As long as the Upper Chamber continues to disregard the will of the people of British Columbia in this important particular it is quite possible that Canadian customs returns will show a larger amount of liquor imported into this Province by "private parties" than by the Liquor Control Board.

It is to be hoped that the Legislature will make a further request to the Dominion Government for the re-enactment, for the third time, of the measure in question.

THE ODD MANIFESTO

IN A MANIFESTO ISSUED on behalf of the British Fascist organization Lord Ernest Hamilton declares that the electors should realize that "British fascism is a live force to-day against the insidious advance of the 'reds,' whose avowed object is the destruction of the British Empire."

If the noble lord were to be told that his society's manifesto is little short of an insult to the intelligence and good sense of the people of Great Britain he would no doubt get very annoyed; yet that is just what it amounts to.

Great Britain has no use for bed-sheet or black-shirt persuasion. The British voter recognizes nothing but "visible" government and will make short work of any attempt to usurp constitutional prerogative.

OF INTEREST TO VICTORIA

PREMIER KING IS CONVINCED that the Peace River country should be provided with transportation facilities at the earliest possible date. Premier Oliver holds the same opinion and the two leaders will discuss the subject when the Federal Prime Minister is in Victoria this week.

While it may not be possible for Mr. King and Mr. Oliver to make very much progress towards a decision in respect of a policy which would meet the requirements of this great Northern Empire, they will have an opportunity to talk over and examine the details of the situation in a much more exhaustive fashion than lengthy correspondence permits. In the meantime, moreover, consequent upon the first hand information obtained by Sir Henry Thornton when he toured the locality a month or two ago, the engineers of the Canadian National Railways are preparing a report from which it will eventually be possible to determine what action seems necessary.

Victoria and Vancouver Island are naturally interested in any proposal which is intended to open up one of the most productive areas in the Province of British Columbia. Intensive settlement of the Peace River country, such as would be possible when transportation facilities have been provided, would result in a considerable impetus to the industrial life of the coast cities. It would mean a good deal to this part of the Province and automatically demand a greater development of the resources of Vancouver Island.

"Say it with Posters" is once more the political cry in the Old Country.

Mr. Lloyd George is advising Spain what to do about Morocco. David is assuredly a man of many parts.

The British Fascist says that it is a live force in the Old Country; but John Bull will not take any back talk from hooded gangs in cow pastures or black-shirted legions on the highways.

THE MODERN WOMAN

From The London Times
Miss Margaret Bondfield, a member of the Labor Government, has been expressing candidly her views about "intellectual" women. She told the Independent Labor Party Summer School that she thought a very strong indictment could be drawn up against the modern woman in her attitude towards the important function of home-making. The most vocal section of womanhood appeared to think that to be an architect or a doctor was to be something superior to the home-maker. She held entirely the contrary view. She had very little patience with the woman who wanted to leave husband and children to the care of paid labor while she herself sought outside work because it was more "intellectual." To her mind the ordering of a home, the bringing up of children, the insistence on bringing to the home the best possible help in the achievement could provide, required the most sustained effort of service—that "infinite capacity for taking pains" which amounted to genius. The fact of the matter was that a large number of women were not fit to be homemakers, because they had never addressed their minds to it as a vocation. They regarded it far more as merely an opportunity to satisfy instinctive cravings, to "express themselves" and to have a husband who would give them a good time.

DR. FRANK CRANE

ON "MOTHELCRAFT"

PEOPLE have to learn other that anyone is able to understand

This requires quite as much ability and cleverness as anything else.

There are very few mothers about who first learn how to wield the brush. Nor does any boy with mechanical ability become an engineer without training.

Motherhood is a profession and,

as Muriel Winch says, "it is necessary that women naturally endowed with the capacity of motherhood should be taught to use it as a craft."

A mother should be to some extent educated intellectually. Of course she needs a capacity for devotion and self-sacrifice but the emphasis on intellectual work has not been stressed. She will have charge of growing minds and these must be fed in the right way. She is not only the first, she is the most important teacher.

She needs a physical education.

Children require longer hours of sleep, different food, and a varying amount of exercise. The mother should understand the principles of physiology.

She must understand the principles of psychology and know the characteristics of the normal child and understand the reason for its certain activities.

She must understand why the child learns numbers more quickly while playing at grocery store than while solemnly counting out beans or counters. She must know enough about the mythology of many countries to understand about processes and fables, giants and dwarfs. She ought to know enough of natural history to teach the child to use his eyes and see the world about him.

She should understand the training of character and be able to teach the lessons of life to the child

so that he will know how to live.

The study of ethics, philosophy and practical experience will be of use to her.

A woman who takes her motherhood seriously ought to take her training seriously and if she did so we would have happier children. Canada in 1923 absorbed more than $100,000,000 worth of automobiles. It exported 69,920 vehicles, $7,481 of them passenger cars and 12,459 trucks. The value of our automobile exports last year was nearly $50,000,000.

Registrations of passenger cars

1923 were 642,671, of which 185,949 were in use in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and possibilities for cheap water power,

The future will be hastened by recent political developments, which appear destined to help Canadian trade with Australia in one instance of what I mean.

It is not expected that Australia will become a great manufacturing country, where Canada is progressing rapidly in that respect. The new agreement giving each country a preferential tariff on goods received from the other is certainly opening a market for Canadian manufactured goods there.

Greater even than the Australian agreement is what it portends. Without question it is the first of a series of preferential duty agreements between the Dominion and other British possessions. It is only a question of time before South Africa, and Canada will embark upon a similar reciprocal understanding. And it would not surprise me if within a year some kind of preferential tariff agreement with Australia, which will be of mutual advantage to both,

will have been worked out.

HEAD OF BIG MOTOR COMPANY TO VISIT HERE

J. D. Mansfield, President of Maxwell-Chrysler Motor Co., in City To-morrow

John D. Mansfield, president and general manager of the Maxwell-Chrysler Motor Company of Canada, Limited, of Windsor, Ont., who is making a six weeks' trip through Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, studying business conditions, will arrive here tomorrow morning on his first trip through the Canadian Northwest since he became general manager of the company last April.

Since Mr. Mansfield assumed leadership of the company, it has become the fastest growing motor car organization in the Dominion.

Mr. Mansfield is bringing with him some impressive information concerning the size of the Canadian automotive industry and the Canadian automotive market.

PRODUCTS OF B.C. MINES FEATURED AT SACRAMENTO

Samples From This Province Are Shown at National Exposition

Sacramento, Calif., October 12.—Through the efforts of the Department of Mines and Mining of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, comprehensive mineral exhibits from British Columbia, Oregon and Nevada were added features at the National Exposition of Mines and Mining Equipment, held here last week in connection with the Twenty-seventh Annual Convention of the American Mining Congress. The Colorado School of Mines also had an interesting oil shale exhibit, making both oil and gasoline from oil shale through a complete working laboratory equipment.

Frank E. Woodside, president, and Henry Brawning, secretary of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines, were in charge of the Canadian display, brought here from Vancouver. It marked the initial participation of British Columbia in a convention of the American Mining Congress. A. G. Langley, represented the Ministry of Mines William Sloan of Victoria, and Mortimer Lamb, secretary of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, were also present.

A WIDE RANGE
British Columbia contains a wide range of minerals, and the exhibit graphically portrayed the possibilities of the mineral industry in that district. Virtually every known metal is found in commercial quantities, and some splendid samples of gold, copper, silver, lead, zinc, nickel, antimony, tungsten, manganese, iron and pyrites were shown. A lodestone attracted much attention. There were also samples of British Columbia coal and coke, the production of which to date has totaled $238,289,565. Non-metallic ores and building materials also figured prominently in the display, which was made more attractive by splendid photographs. Each specimen was properly labelled. The six mineral districts of the Province were represented in the display, one of the most popular at the Exposition.

OREGON'S ORES SHOWN
Attention of delegates was focused on the great mineral possibilities in Oregon. By the splendid exhibit made by the Southwestern Oregon Mining Bureau of Grants Pass with P. S. Woodin, president, and H. L. Gage, geologist, in charge. That part of Oregon adjacent to Grants Pass and south of it to the California-Oregon boundary is a richly mineralized zone, containing in commercial quantities chrome, manganese, magnesite, hematite, tungsten, pyrites, lime, magnetite, jade, talc, coal, jasper, marble, silica, oil shale, copper, cinabar, silver and gold.

NON-METALLICS FEATURED
As the development of Nevada's vast non-metallic deposits has just commenced on an extensive scale, these minerals were featured in the display from that state, made through the co-operation of the Mackay School of Mines and the Nevada State Mining Bureau, with F. N. Dondero, acting secretary of the Bureau, in charge. A. J. Stinson, Nevada State Mine Inspector, was also present.

Exceptionally fine specimens of gypsum from the immense deposit near Gerlach, diatomaceous earth, clays, barytes, marble, sulphur, mica, mineral paints and magnesite were on display. Copper, vanadium graphite, cinabar, palladium, platinum, silver (all forms) and gold were among the other mineral products exhibited. A six-foot photo of one of the great Nevada copper mines attracted wide attention. Actual distillation of oil from oil shale and then gasoline from the oil drew large crowds to the booth of the Colorado School of Mines, in charge of Dean Victor G. Anderson and W. J. Norris of the School, assisted by students and other members of the faculty. Statistics showing the great oil reserves in the shales of Colorado were graphically portrayed on charts. These exhibits were in addition to the mammoth display of California minerals, occupying the centre of the Exposition.

STUDIES MODE OF CROSSING FRUITS FOR FINE RESULT

Professor Hansen, While Here, Tells of Successful Experiments

Has Been in Orient Many Times, and Saw Outbreak of Fighting

After almost two months among the uncivilized Chinese tribes of northern Manchuria, constantly on the alert to defend himself and his possessions against bandits, and several times narrowly avoiding uncomfortable episodes with blood-thirsty tribesmen from the hills, Professor N. E. Hansen, of the teaching staff at the South Dakota State University, has returned to America, and last night passed through Victoria on his way to Seattle. He was a passenger on board the Admiral Oriskany liner President McKinley. "I have seen a considerable portion of Asia during my travels," said Professor Hansen to the Times, "and I was in Manchuria when the fighting in China broke out. Only a few weeks ago. But I was not particularly distressed by the news of conflict, for I had been living among a people whose near-neighbors were bandits and who would offer scant protection against a band of marauders from the hills. So war in a portion of China, rather remote from me, made little difference to my accustomed habits of life while in the Orient."

AID TO AGRICULTURE

Professor Hansen explained that he was traveling in Manchuria and Siberia with the intention of investigating various species of plant and vegetable life, and of developing new and better types of fruit by a process of grafting. On this occasion, which was the sixth excursion to Asia for the same purpose, he had been successful in discovering a new species of plum and wild cherry. They are of the early maturing variety, and he has brought back with him a large collection of the growth.

"I consider my work to be of international import," said Professor Hansen, "and I am trying to do my part in developing agriculture. I first went to China for the United States Government, and now I travel in connection with the university with which I am associated. In the past five years, also, I have made ten trips into the northern part of Canada. Wherever I go I find new trees, new plants and new vegetation of one sort or another."

VALUE OF HIS WORK
The professor went on to explain the value of his work. He had taken, he said, these new varieties of fruits which he found, for example, a Japanese plum, and had crossed this with a wild Manchurian plum. The result had been three different varieties of plums, all of which grow equally well in Canada or China, and are known as the Cree, the Ojibway and the Peoria varieties.

Professor Hansen is an authority on agricultural subjects, and his word is received and credited among the circle of experts in Canada and the United States. His research work has covered an immense amount of ground. He is still an active man, traveling many miles and enduring many hardships daily in the Orient or in the wilds of the Canadian north. For he is a pioneer in his line and has added greatly to the world's valued store of knowledge on the subject of agriculture.

CHINESE CONDITIONS
Professor Hansen stated that conditions in China at the present time, or at the time that he left the country, were not particularly good, so far as commerce and industry were concerned. But he did not think that the war would have the effect of setting back the industrial workers of the Oriental country. Rather, he thought the era of peace which would ultimately follow, would mark a great advance in every direction.

RUSSIAN CUT TIMBER
The reason for the falling off of the demand of timber from this coast for China ports, did not lie in the fact that Russians were cutting timber in large quantities in northern Manchuria, said Professor Hansen. He believes that it is just as profitable to ship lumber from here to China as it is to haul it from northern to southern points by rail in Asia. The difference in water and land transportation rates made it impossible for timbermen to compete when faced with these circumstances.

LITTLE COMPETITION
"I do not think," he asserted, "that lumbermen of the Canadian and American west need have any fear of competition from Russians cutting timber on their concessions in the north of China. However, I am not sufficiently familiar with the situation to be a very competent judge. Still, I have been on the ground and have seen the difficulties which the lumbermen face in Asia."

Professor Hansen has traveled during his career, Siberia, Russia, Manchuria, Turkestan, central Asiatic countries, and into the vast, unexplored wildernesses of Canada. Since 1897 he has been constantly visiting and residing in the Orient. He expressed himself as being particularly glad to be back, for he had an immense assortment of valuable specimen-luggage to sort, examine and catalogue.

J. C. Pendray, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, H. J. Pendray, Harold Patterson and Major H. D. Pemberton were the members of the Chamber of Commerce who accepted the invitation to attend the directors' meeting this afternoon.

From Norfolk Virginia, comes a newspaper clipping to the City Hall, suggesting that the city manager to use the city manager system, it being stated that Victoria is making inquiries to that end at Norfolk and elsewhere in the United States. The writer ridicules the idea that the city manager system has been beneficial there.

The preliminary hearing of Rex v. Harvey McAdam continued in the provincial police court to-day before Magistrate Jay. UNITED EFFORT FOR PAVING OF HIGHWAY

Will Probably be Among First Things Island Body Will Take up

A discussion on the permanent paving of the Island Highway, north from the foot of the Malahat on the north side, took place at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

The agricultural group sought the advice of the board before taking necessary steps. With the board's approval, a report stated, the group would meet to outline plans calculated to bring about the successful paving of the highway in sections and submit the plans to the board before proceeding further.

"If we get an organization functioning in the way suggested as a result of the trip up-island this will be one of the things it would take up," said the president. He thought it would be more effective for a body representing the whole island to see the Provincial Government, than any one section. The directors decided that united effort would be the most advisable course.

All-in-one Combined

Few announcements of recent years have been received with such enthusiasm as the coming of Percy Grainger. The Victoria Ladies' Musical Club is indeed to be congratulated upon securing such an eminent musician for the opening concert this season. To the student of music, the name Grainger is synonymous with folk music, and to those who know the Duo-Art, a music roll by Grainger himself is a treasure to be prized. Percy Grainger, like all the truly great pianists of to-day, makes music rolls exclusively for the Duo-Art. Will you not accept our invitation to see the Duo-Art and hear Grainger play any, or all of the following compositions? "SINNERS IN HEAVEN" TO BE FEATURE AT CAPITOL THEATRE ALL THIS WEEK

Paramount Production of Famous Prize Winning Novel is Filmed Under Difficulties in Bahama Islands

The average film fan, who sits in comfort and ease in a well-ventilated, excellently-appointed theatre and watches the silent shadows flit across the silver sheet, little dreams of the time and effort and energy that goes into the making of a motion picture. It is difficult to convince him or her (as the case may be) that the few thousand feet of film which takes about an hour to unwind upon the screen took many months of heart-breaking work—work sometimes accomplished under tremendous difficulties.

"Sinners in Heaven" is a case in point. This Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre, was filmed almost entirely in the Bahama Islands. When you see this photoplay you will be amazed at the marvelous South-sea atmosphere and the pictorial beauty of the tropical backgrounds, but you will know nothing of the hardships that every member of the company experienced in making the picture.

"The sun was 120 degrees in the shade and there was no shade," said Richard Dix, one of the featured players.

"Can you imagine," chimed in Bebe Daniels, who also has a leading role in the picture, "I had a chill and lost ten pounds."

In checking up the casualties of the location trip, it was discovered that Miss Daniels ran a rusty nail into her foot; Dix splintered his elbow in the fight he had with Montague Love, who played the native chief; Victor DeLinsky, who was one of the natives, suffered a badly sprained ankle while carrying Miss Daniels over slippery palm leaves for a scene in the picture; and everybody in the company came back to New York tanned and thin from the excessive heat of the tropics and marked by hundreds of mosquito bites.

"Sinners in Heaven" was produced by Alan Crosland from an adaptation by James Creelman of the famous prize-winning novel of the same name by Olive Ardren. It depicts the romance of a man and girl cast away on a desert island.

Besides Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix, the cast includes Holmes Hefbert, Montague Love, Florence Billings, Effie Shannon, Betty Hiltburn and Marcia Harris.

Columbia Presents an Unusual
Offering This Week

The success of the film "Barmy London" is in time with the sweeping popularity of the song of the same name, the first chorus of which goes—"Bligh-mee wot the 'ell do we 'uns care, we got gals and we got beer and the bloomin' kaiser is on 'is ear so tell the world that we don't care 'cause we're the Blokes of London, the jolly Blokes of London, the Barmy Blokes of London Town."

The picture "Barmy London" showing at the Columbia all this week, is bigger and better than anything of its kind ever seen before, it's a revelation. It's a picture of a great story, a great romance, and we see the staging of big sporting spectacles, the National Sporting Club, London, the famous race course at Epsom Downs where the richer classes of Barmy London turn for entertainment, and the palace of Barmy Blokes where the poorer and Barmier classes of Barmy London assemble for their diversion.

Musical Comedy Production
Being Put 'on by Hincks'
Company During Week

To-night will mark the opening of Reginald Hincks' big musical comedy production, "The Isle of Spice," which will hold the boards at the Royal Theatre for the entire week. This will undoubtedly prove one of the most colorful and spectacular of his many shows and the comedy is said to be a veritable riot. Specially painted scenery, gorgeous costumes and brilliant lighting effects have all been arranged for and the result should be an eye-opener to the theatre-going public. Some up-to-date popular song hits have been added to the original score to satisfy modern tastes and with the Royal augmented orchestra in attendance the musical portion of the entertainment will be all that can be desired. The box office is now open and reservations can be made for all performances.

Looks to Bring New Features in Motion Pictures

American Field Offers Opportunities for New Era in Pictures

"The American field offers opportunities I have long sought, and I am looking forward to the day when I can assist in bringing in a new era in motion picture making."

So says the great Lubitsch, producer-director of "The Marriage Circle," which electrified the film patronizing public on its release, and who has followed this amazing success with "Three Women," playing now at the Dominion Theatre.

Lubitsch does not know what this new era will be like, but he feels certain that Old Man Time, plus hard work, will open new vistas in the realm of film-making.

Lubitsch, in his pictures, does not introduce startling innovations which would be so outstanding as to make the public forget the action of the picture. What he does do, however, is to insert deft little touches that give the action touches of reality spelling conviction. He did it with innumerable skilful strokes in "The Marriage Circle," and critics aver he has repeated in "The Three Women."

In the cast are May McAvoy, Pauline Frederick, Marie Prevost, Lew Cody, Mary Carr, Pierre Gendron and Willard Louis. Lubitsch disbelieves in the single star system, getting infinitely better results with a collection of tried and proved players with distinction and polish. It is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen.

The foreman looked him up and down. "Are you a mechanic?" he asked. "No, sorry," was the answer. "Of'm a McCarthy."

Musical Melange of Mirth Magic At Playhouse

Joey Johnston, Popular Comedian, Dives Into Mystery

Louise Fazenda has a screen personality that has aroused curiosity in various quarters. For eight years she has made people laugh in every corner of the globe. The question is a natural one:

"What is she like?"

Louise Fazenda always billed in dramas as "the comedy relief," is a "relief" whenever she enters a scene in real life. Here is an artist, less art, but you can always count on Louise Fazenda to create laughter. In her inspired moments, she does more clowning off the screen than on, but again it is tempered and quiet fun. She starts out just like anybody else. Seeing her in a crowd, no one would connect her with the comic. Not for five minutes, possibly ten. Then she does something and everybody is roaring.

Recently the comedienne with a serious-minded dramatic critic and his wife and another friend, attended some amateur theatricals. She gave sober faced attention. During the acting of the third play, still seriously attentive, she took her hat and placed it quietly at every angle on her head. Seated at the back of the house where no one could see her but her own party, she had them well on the road to hysterics.

The industry lost a good title writer when Louise Fazenda elected to act. Quaint expressions drop from her lips like leaves from a tree. She is always original. There is her serious side, but it is close to the borderland of humor. An admirer once said to her:

"There are many duplicates in nature, but there's one thing certain: nature was in no duplicating mood when you were created."

Yes, she is funny and serious, but there is a wonderful understanding about Louise Fazenda, who is always a real person.

"Being Respectable," in which she makes her latest appearance, in a serious role, is, as the title says, the story of a set of people who are the essence of respectability. But life has a way of flinging out unexpected like a volcano long asleep, which suddenly belches forth its fatal lava and inundates the peaceful valleys.

This Warner Brothers classic of the screen is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The cast, in addition to Miss Fazenda, is composed of Marie Prevost, Monte Blue, Irene Rich, Theodore Von Eltz, Frank Currier, Eulalie Jensen, Lila Leslie, Charles French and Sidney Bracey.

In presenting Hindustan, a musical melange of mirth, magic and mystery, Joey Johnston has left the paths of ordinary musical comedy and incorporated some magical effects to lighten the Eastern splendor and Oriental atmosphere so dear to the public, who are always looking for something new in the spectacular. Without doubt this is one of the biggest and best shows ever offered to the public of Victoria.

Difficult to Keep Your Hair Wavy? Read This

If you have not yet tried the silmerine method, by all means do so, whether your hair be long or bobbed. You'll never again use the ruinous heated iron. The curliness will appear so perfectly natural and the hair will be so beautifully lustrous, instead of dried and parched. Thus, liquid silmerine serves also as a beneficial dressing for the hair. It is neither sticky nor greasy, but quite pleasant to use. It should be applied with a clean tooth brush before putting up the hair.

The hair will have the loveliest curls and waves imaginable, and it will be easy to manage, no matter what the style of coiffure. Liquid silmerine will not cost more than 20 cents an ounce at any drug store.

CHURCHILL CHOOSES SINGAPORE BASE AS ELECTION SUBJECT

London, Oct. 13. (Canadian Press).—Winston Churchill is laboring the MacDonald Government for its treatment of the Dominions.

"Singapore," Mr. Churchill says, "seems very remote from here, but it is a vital point in Europe unity and unless there is a harbor there, it is not possible for the British navy to enter the Pacific and render the protection of the British sea power to Australia and New Zealand. The Government has refused to allow a harbor to be constructed and has said to the Australians: 'You can shift for yourselves.' This has been said almost on the morrow of the war in which 500,000 men offered their lives for the mother country."

Romantic Love Scene Occupies Mary Philbin

Is Best Romantic Vehicle in the "Gaiety Girl" at the Coliseum

"The Gaiety Girl," tragic love story laid in a glittering setting of London's hectic night life, the glare of the footlights and the tinsel of the musical comedy, contrasted with the majestic grandeur of the castles of the nobility, is Mary Philbin's latest and perhaps greatest starring vehicle. Any who have seen this remarkable new Universal production, now playing at the Coliseum Theatre, will voice this thought:

the tragic denouement of her tangle of marriage, heartache and disillusionment, she is the same appealing little character under King Baggot's direction.

The story, adapted from L. A. R. Wylie's novel, "The Inheritors," is an intensely dramatic vehicle, staged on a lavish scale. Through it all Mary Philbin is intensely human. Spectacular reproductions of the old English castle, London Bridge and the Houses of Parliament—these are some of the gigantic settings for the new picture, perhaps structurally Universal's biggest achievement since "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

PRESIDENT TELLS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TOUR

Island Ready For Unity In March of Progress, He States

A spirit of co-operation for the advancement of Vancouver Island was evidenced during the Chamber of Commerce tour of Vancouver Island, C. P. W. Schwengers, president, reported at the directors' meeting to-day.

"It has been increasingly obvious over a long period that the progress and development on Vancouver Island has not proceeded in conformity with its great natural resources and tourist possibilities," he reported. "Amongst many deterrent factors may be mentioned the following:

"The liquidation of our immense timber assets, the proceeds of which by way of royalties, taxes, etc., instead of being recapitalized for the benefit of the island, are diverted to take care of current expenditures, devoted largely to Mainland purposes, such as the P.G.E., the University of B.C., etc. This criticism is not directed against the present Provincial Government because it has only continued a policy formulated by its many predecessors in office, and is undoubtedly the result of our minority population. The town of Duncan alone told us they contributed over $200,000 per year in cash to the Government Office there, with very little return expenditure in this district, and it is now proposed to close this office entirely.

The discrimination against this island by the imposition of the lumber arbitrary, which is forcing the large bulk of our timber to be sawn on the Mainland and preventing the erection of new mills on the tide-waters of Vancouver Island.

"The gasoline and motor taxes which were to be earmarked for the improvement of the roads of each district, are now being levied in so far as the island's contribution is concerned, on our own roads.

"If the present policy continues, our vast timber resources on this island will in time be entirely depleted and the beauties of our timberland from a tourist point of view coincidentally destroyed, without any other created asset to take their place. Your delegation was impressed with the urgent necessity of some co-operative action being taken to bring about some organization representative of the whole island, and with the entire population behind them so that intensive and continuous effort may be made to remedy the present condition and produce that degree of prosperity which our resources justify us in feeling is our right. With this object in view we visited the various communities on this island and had splendid meetings, emphasizing the necessity of eliminating all sectionalism and uniting together to remedy the many injustices that exist. These meetings were in every case a pronounced success, and we received assurances from each and every community that they would be right with the rest of the island to a man in lending their assistance to any well-devised and thought-out scheme of that would reach the objective aimed for. We were urged on every hand to follow up the movement by quick action.

Your delegation propose to have a meeting and discuss the matter, after which in accordance with the agreement reached at Nanaimo and Duncan, we propose to call upon Dr. Kerr, the president of the Associated Societies of British Columbia, and place the entire matter before him, with the suggestion that he should gather together representatives from each district, and either decide to reorganize the present Associated Boards upon lines with high and intensive functioning power, or the creation of some new organization to deal with the whole subject.

"We submit that the matter is of such far-reaching importance to the future prosperity of this island that it is well deserving of the creation of some body of men who will give of their time and ability generously, and will be supported in the expenditure of such money as is necessary to produce the required results."

The president added the island was ripe for the co-operation which was suggested in the report, and there was no feeling that some body of men should follow up the plan. Dr. Kerr would be soon calling a meeting of delegates of each district, he believed.

Cordial thanks were accorded the directors who made the trip. Thanks were also accorded the press and up-island firms who had helped in the success of the tour.

Passengers Say Contending
Parties Are Marking Time

The situation in Peking, the national capital, and in Shanghai, the commercial metropolis of China, were described by passengers on the liner Empress of Russia which berthed this morning, as one of uncertainty. The loss commercially to the foreign representatives will be very serious, all agreed, as trade with the interior is moribund. The damage materially is not yet large, but the introduction of modern equipment has threatened destruction, so much so at Peking that the council of foreign ministers has lodged a formal protest against the use of airplanes. They have protested that the Chihli-Fengtien quarrel should not be allowed to jeopardize life and property in the national capital. As already stated the allied ministers have succeeded in establishing a fairly definite neutral zone around Shanghai, where the warring factions of Chiang and Kiangsu battle for supremacy among the rice plantations around Ichang and Sunkiang.

FOREIGNERS NOT IMPERILLED

Dr. Otto Winter, attached to the staff of the Peking Union Medical College, of the Rockefeller Foundation, states that while life of foreigners has not been imperilled, the general state of unrest is making their continued residence in Peking uncomfortable.

Fear prevailed for some time last month that foreign intervention would be inevitable. Chinese ministers abroad having sounded out the embassies of their respective countries on the matter. Safety of the interests of foreign residents has been guaranteed. Whether it can be effectively enforced is not yet apparent.

At Shanghai, according to E. P. Williams, of Philadelphia, the Far Eastern representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, the situation is practically unchanged for the past month.

The contending generals in the Central China field, Tai Hsiehyan for the Kiangsu forces, and Lu Tung-Siang for the Chekiang troops, have not made much progress falling large supplies of equipment and ammunition, and meanwhile Shanghai business is more or less at a standstill.

Travelers who come to Shanghai up the coast report a considerable amount of gun running to isolated points. In this way the armies of the tuchuns are supplied, and some doubtless reaches the contending armies. Rumors and counter rumors of decisive engagements have been circulated without cause for several weeks.

All Conditions Named by

Been Fulfilled

The Chamber of Commerce has fulfilled every condition named by Sir Henry Thornton and the way is clear for the erection of a grain elevator in Victoria, C. P. W. Schwengers, president, announced at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

Mr. Schwengers stated that Premier Oliver had been approached and had given an assurance that the terminal bonds were available for this purpose. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., had turned the entire matter over to A. E. Warren, C.N.R. western manager. Mr. Warren had been wired, and word was now awaited from him.

AUSTRALIA IS GREAT COUNTRY, SAYS ADAM

Leader of Canadian Football Team Tells Gyros About Country Down Under

"Besides being a great sporting country, Australia is industrious," James Adam, manager of the All-Canadian team which toured Australia, told members of the Gyro Club to-day.

The Australians will back any clean sport, he stated, but he admitted that there was altogether too much horse racing. Rugby and cricket are the major sports, but soccer is gradually getting a strong hold, and the fact that it is played in fifty-two different counties is swaying the Australians in their attitude towards it.

Mr. Adam paid a tribute to one of the Gyros when he stated that the Canadian team would not have lost one game on the tour had Archie Muir made the trip. "We needed someone of Archie's ability to shoot on goal," declared "Jimmie."

Mr. Adams gave the Gyros a splendid description of life in Australia, telling of

"We had an open door to everything and we dined with Premiers and Senators and special trains were run to many points of interest. The Canadians were taken down in the mines at Newcastle and saw a seam of coal thirty-five feet thick. They also visited the unique Jenolan Caves."

"My experience during my tour of Australia and urged great care in the use of all inflammable materials. Gyro Louise Olsen, winner of the handball tournament at the Gyro Club, was greeted as the coming champion of the city by the Gyros. He was presented with a suitable reminder of his achievement."

SHADOW OF COMING CIVIC ELECTION

Mayorality and Two or Three Aldermanic Seats Will be Open

With just two months before polling at the civic election, interest begins to be stimulated in the contest. With Mayor Hayward out of the field, there is almost certain to be a poll, and possibly a three-cornered fight. One of the ex-mayors who was expected to be in the field for the mayorality will not run, it is stated, and this narrows the field to three or four aspirants.

Five of the aldermen retire this year, and two are not expected to offer themselves for re-election. J. A. Shanks, who just missed election last December, and lacked only a few votes of fifth place, will again be in the field. He recently returned from Stewart to prosecute his candidature.

There will be one vacancy to be filled for police commissioner, and three vacancies in the school board.

EVENTS TO COME

The next meeting of the Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the assembly hall of the school on Tuesday next, October 14, at 3 p.m. There will be a social evening with musical items and refreshments will be served. All interested in education are invited to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute will take place on Monday next in the Parish Hall, St. Paul's.

Operators Are Commended

Directors

Thanks were accorded to the Cascade Towing and Freighting Company for courtesy extended to the Chamber of Commerce delegation who crossed on the Mill Bay ferry during the up-island tour at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

"It will, I think, be one of the greatest helps to Victoria I know," said C. P. Hill. "It is a beautiful trip in itself besides being a commercial asset, and the men who are behind it are worthy of commendation for their enterprise." It was reported that the ferry had been well patronized since it commenced operations, and was frequently taxed to capacity.

SHOULD BE SHORT COUNCIL SESSION

Business of the City Council this evening should not be of a controversial character, none of the questions to be presented to the aldermen promising to arouse sharp discussion.

Mayor Hayward has received from the Dominion Securities Corporation an expression of thanks to the council for the decision of a week ago to pilot the settlement through the Legislature, affecting payment of debentures at par of exchange in Canadian currency. As already stated, the claim for American currency was abandoned a week ago by telegram, and the letter

CONFIRMS THIS OFFER OF COMPROMISE.

In some quarters at the City Hall an impression prevails that when the Government does give that power it will require the city to submit the matter to a vote of the ratepayers, though the private bill will endeavor to avoid that contingency.

The city has now sold forty-five parcels of land at the civic tax sale which is now in its third week, representing an upset price of $13,125.

Flurry of Goals In O.C. Football Caused By Rain

Goalies Unable to Handle Wet Ball and Cause Heavy Scoring in Most Games

Preston and Sheffield Seem Headed for Relegation; Changes in Standings

London, Oct. 12.—The extraordinary goal scoring in the principal leagues in Saturday's football association games was largely due to the wetness of the grounds, which made the ball slippery in the goalkeepers' hands.

Thirty-three tallies were registered in the First Division, but in the Bolton Wanderers-Preston game accounted for seven; four were netted at Blackburn, four at Huddersfield and the same number at West Bromwich.

In the Second Division, thirty-six shots found the nets, of which the Hull City game accounted for seven; six were made at Leicester, six at Coventry and five at Derby.

In the Scottish League, the Edinburgh-Hibernians bagged seven goals, while the Cowdenbeath-Rangers saw four counters recorded, two each.

VILLA MISSED CHANCES
In the tilt between the Birmingham and Aston Villa, the largest crowd of the day was present, 45,000 persons seeing the home team take Villa into camp by a solitary counter. Villa missed several opportunities in the first half and were continually on the aggressive.

In the Spurs-Burnley match, the Tottenham were unfortunate in being deprived of the services of Clay for more than an hour. The most spectacular feature of the game was the great goal scored when Tom Roberts, recently purchased at £4,000, running forty yards by himself, beat a couple of opponents with a nice shot.

Arsenal finished their game at Huddersfield thoroughly demoralized, and the 4-0 defeat would have been greater but for the brilliant plays of Robson. At no time in the game did the Arsenal look like losing their unbeaten record.

BOLTON SCORED FAST
Bolton Wanderers scored four times in the first fifteen minutes of their game with Preston. The latter club went to pieces, and it would seem that nothing but a miracle can save them from relegation this season.

Manchester City's defeat at the hands of Blackpool, however, caused them to regress from second place to sixth, while it promoted the Rovers three rungs up.

Sunderland was one of the two clubs to emerge with full points on their opponents' ground. Curiously enough the other team was Notts Forest, who have not inspired much confidence in their supporters this season. The Foresters defeated Sheffield United, and sent United down the ladder to keep company with Preston at the bottom.

In the Scottish League the Rangers' draw with Cowdenbeath cost them considerable since their next three pursuers in the league scramble all acquired full points.

Celtic's narrow win over the Hearts gives them temporary advantage above Ardronians and Hibernians, in the order named. Rangers are fourth. Kilmarnock improved their position by their three to one victory over Queen's Park.

In the junior sections of the English League about $5,000 saw Fulham play Chelsea to a draw. Portsmouth retained its undefeated record, while Derby County retained possession of the league standing.

THE EASTERN BOSS

When the National Hockey League decided to take in Boston and a second Montreal team at its meeting yesterday President Calder became boss of a very influential circuit. The league now is international in make-up and within another season may include New York, which will make it a very attractive league.

FRANK CALDER

There were three outstanding features in Saturday's hockey games, which marked the opening of the season.

First and foremost was the fact that the J.B.A.A. champions for the past four years, are not to have things their own way this season. They received their first jolt, a regular knockout, at the hands of the Oak Bay Wanderers.

The second feature was the fact that none of the five defeated teams were able to score. The defenses of the victors, while sorely tried at times, withstood the assault and came through unscathed.

The third feature of the opening card was the fine calibre of rugby displayed and the interest taken by the spectators. The games were spiritedly contested.

Saturday's results were as follows:

SENIOR LEAGUE
Oak Bay Wanderers 12, J.B.A.A. 0.
Tilliums 5, United Services 0.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE
Victoria College 14, United Services 0.
Oak Bay Wanderers 12, J.B.A.A. 0.
Brentwood College 24, Normal School 0.

The standing of the leagues is as follows:

Senior League
P. W. L. F. A. Pts.
Wanderers 1 0 0 12 0 2
Tilliums 1 0 0 8 0 2
J.B.A.A. 1 0 0 8 0 2
United Services 1 0 0 8 0 0

Intermediate League
P. W. L. F. A. Pts.
Wanderers 1 0 0 12 0 2
Victoria College 1 0 0 14 0 2
Brentwood 1 0 0 24 0 2
United Services 1 0 0 12 0 0
Normal School 1 0 0 14 0 0

The upset of the day occurred in the Senior League when the Wanderers finally succeeded in downing their ancient rivals, the Bays, by a decisive score. As usual, the Bays had trouble with the full team on the field, and had to go the full route one man shy. The Bays this year cannot draw on their intermediates, and will have to buckle down to business if they wish to capture their fifth consecutive pennant. Injuries added to the Bays' failure.

The Wanderers, always noted for their indomitable courage, were at last rewarded, and they relished their victory as if it were a dish of cream puffs.

BITTERLY CONTESTED
The game was bitterly contested, as are all matches between these two teams. The Wanderers had divisions on the field, and there were plenty of fine runs with the Wanderers meeting with the most success.

Hec Goodacre played his first game for the Wanderers, and his kicking was well to the fore, and helped clear the Bays' line many times. However, Hec was not able to stall off the impending defeat.

Natra, who has played in plenty of good rugby here, was in form on Saturday and scored seven points for the Wanderers, gaining three on a try and four on a field goal. The other points for the Wanderers were gained by the galloping John Shaw, who scored the first try of the game. Pemberton converted, adding the extra points.

OAK BAY WANDERERS—Gilmer; Carr-Hilton, Adams, Grubb, Shaw; Parker, Robertson; Pemberton, Wootton, Coleman, Hurdle, Christy, Wilson, DeBoulay and Kerr.

J.B.A.A.—Boss Johnson, Totty, Goodacre, Rendroff, Humber, MacLean, MacMillan, Travis, Smith, F. Toimie, East, John Johnson, Watson and Porteous.

NEWCOMERS PLAY WELL
The two newcomers to the Senior League this season had a keen match with the Tilliums, led by the brilliant Pendray, stepping out over the United Services. Both clubs put up a strong battle for the winning points, but the aggressiveness of the Tilliums forwards carried them through to victory. In the first half George McRae, who last year helped the Bays win the championship, flopped on the ball near the Services' posts for the opening score, and "Dunc" McLennan's trusty toe added the two extra points. In the second half the Tilliums scored once, this time Pendray polishing off a dribbling rush by the forwards with a good try.

The teams were:
Tilliums—Collinson, Huxtable, Fraser, Chugranes, Dunn; McLennan, Passmore; Pendray, Norris, Kirk, Holmes, Sprinkling, Colpitts, G. McRae and Kerr.

GOOD INTERMEDIATE GAMES
The Intermediate League produced some good rugby. Victoria College signalled its entry into the league with a sparkling win over the United Services. The intermediates of the Oak Bay Wanderers and J.B.A.A. carried on the fight of the seniors and oddly enough the former won by the same score by which their elders smashed through the Bays. Brentwood College had little trouble disposing of Normal School, who have failed to gather together the material that made them champions in 1922.

The teams were:
Brentwood College: Morse; Taylor, Henderson, Playfair, Farner, Grant.

In the three international races Epinard won second place each time.

Six Clubs Will Seek N.H.L. Flag This Year

Boston and Second Montreal Team Granted Franchise in Eastern Professional Hockey League; Players May Be Switched; New York May Come in Next Season; Makes Second Six-Club League in Canada, W.C.H.L. Having Set Example.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—The Boston Hockey Club and a second Montreal Club were admitted to the National Hockey League at a meeting of the league directors on Sunday, thus bringing the number of teams which will operate in the league this winter to six. The new Montreal club paid $15,000 for its franchise and the Boston club a similar amount for the American franchise which was taken by T. J. Duggan two years ago.

The other four clubs in the circuit are Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and Canadiens of Montreal.

It was certain that New York would be an entry next season and another United States city might also be represented, it was stated.

CANADIENS SATISFIED
Leo Dandurand, manager of the world's champion Montreal Canadiens, seconded the motion of T. J. Duggan that Boston and a second Montreal club be admitted to the league. The motion carried making the league a six-club affair, including Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and Canadiens, and the new members. It had been thought that the Canadiens would oppose the granting of a franchise to a second local club.

President Frank Calder and the club owners were reticent regarding possible player shifts, but it is regarded as certain that some of the regulars of the four teams that formerly comprised the league will be found on other teams this season.

OPEN SEASON DECEMBER 1
The National Hockey League season will start about December 1 and end around March 1, it was decided at the meeting of the directors. The definite dates will depend largely on whether the annual meeting decides on a fifteen-home game season or a twenty-game season.

Esquimalt Wins And Benefits By Two Drawn Games

Dockyards Now Leading First Division by Good Margin; Defeated Moose 7-0

West and Wards Play to Draw While Vets and Sons Also Fight to no Decision

Esquimalt footballers retained their lead in the First Division on Saturday, trouncing the Moose by the overwhelming score of seven goals to nil. The West and Wards fought a hotly contested battle to a one-all draw, while the Sons of England and Veterans battled to a two-all score after ninety minutes of close play.

The results of Saturday's games were as follows:

Victoria West 1, Wards 1.
Veterans 2, Sons of England 2.
Esquimalt 7, Moose 0.

The division standings are as follows:

P. W. L. D. Pts.
Esquimalt 3 2 0 1 5
Veterans 3 1 1 1 3
Sons of England 3 1 1 1 3
United Services 1 1 1 1 3
North Wards 2 0 0 2 2
West 2 0 1 1 1
Moose 2 0 2 0 0

STRUGGLED ALL WAY
In a strenuously-contested game the two old rivals, the Wests and Wards, fought to a one-all draw at the Royal Athletic Park. The game, although close, was minus any sparkling plays by either side. In the first half both teams were successful in finding the net for the lone tallies, and in the second half, although the greenhorns had innumerable chances to score, their shooting was poor and they were unable to break the tie count.

In the first half the Wests had a slight edge in the play. The Wards put up a desperate fight, and the formidable line of the Wests was unable to break through except for one goal, which went to Mulcahy, who took a pass from Archie Muir and sent it in a daisy-cutting drive, giving Cummins, the Wards' goalie, no chance to save. From the kick-off the Wards pressed hard, and only the fine work of Shanley, between the sticks for the Wests, kept them from placing the ball in the net. Their efforts were at last rewarded when, after a general scrambling, the Wards' goal-keeper, Scotty Dows, headed the ball into the net, completely beating Shanley.

From then on until the half-time whistle the play revolved about the field to the other, with both defenses playing a good game.

After the rest period the greenhorns kept the ball in their own half except for a few occasional rushes by the Wards forwards which were easily broken up by Whyte and Copas, the two fine Wards' backs, who played a great game. A fine opportunity to score was missed by the Wests when Mulcahy took a pass from Waddington and found the ball at his feet with nobody to beat but the goalie. Pat messy up the chance and kicked the ball to the side. The Wards' goalie was over. Another fine opening was passed up when Waddington booted the ball over the crossbar with an open goal at his mercy. Until the final whistle the Wards' back division broke up all further attacks.

Percy Payne refereed and the teams were as follows:

West: Shanley; Copas and Whyte; McIntyre, Thomas and Baker; Waddington, J. Peden, Muir, Mulcahy and J. Sherratt.

Wards: J. Cummins, Bell and Taylor; Wale, Brynjolfsson and Kroeger; H. Cummins, Dowds, McKinnon, Motion and J. Cummins.

In the game at Beacon Hill between the Veterans and Sons of England the teams were very evenly matched and for nearly the whole of the first half each goalie was tested in turn but they were on the job and for thirty minutes the teams battled without finding the net. Upon one of their many rushes the Sons of England's goal-keeper, the Veterans' fast outside left, centred and Hetherington, the opposing goalie, in attempting to clear placed the ball on Preston's foot, who made no mistake and slammed the ball into the corner of the goal.

Being one goal down the Sons soon carried the play to the other end of the field and Smith, playing inside right, took Phillips' pass and beat Bridges with a low drive. After the centre-off the Vets carried the play to their opponent's goal and Owsen, the Vets' centre half, sent in a fast drive, the ball glancing off Shanks' leg into the goal.

Upon resumption of play the Sons tried hard to even things up, but the Vets' defence was sound and all their efforts were in vain. The Sons' defence was given a few anxious moments and only the fine work of Hetherington in goal saved the day for the Englishmen. With time drawing near Tommy Southern, centre forward, brought joy to the Sons' supporters when, after beating the Vets' defence, he drove the leather into the net. Bridges had no chance to save. During the remainder of the game both teams tried hard to notch the winning goal, but the final whistle blew with the teams locked in the two-all tie.

Alcock refereed and the teams were as follows:

Sons of England—Hetherington; Armitage and Harwood; R. Shanks, Swan and Dryborough; Connerton, Smith, Southern, Phillips and Richardson.

Veterans—Bridges; Campbell and Carmichael; Roe, Small and David; Preston, Dobbie, Owens, Merryfield and Clarkson.

In a wonderfully close Esquimalt eleven found no difficulty in defeating the Moose eleven at Central Park. Then antlered tribe were greatly

Louie Glazen Is Winner of Annual Handicap Tourney

New Star in Golf World Wins 72-Hole Competition at Uplands Golf Club

Louie Glazen won his first major prize in golfing circles yesterday when he polished off the second half of the annual handicap tournament at the Uplands Golf Club five strokes better than J. R. Hiberson, who was second, with J. B. Shaw third with 282.

The competition was played over seventy-two holes, the first half being played last Sunday and the second half yesterday.

Hiberson led in the first half, being two strokes better than Glazen, but yesterday Louie bettered his game and not only made up the two strokes he was down, but bettered Hiberson's mark by five more.

Glazen is one of the recent victims of the golf bug, and he has come along with great strides. In fact he has become so good that the handicappers will no doubt take another look at his cards and vice his handicap.

BRYNJOLFSSON'S BEST GROSS
The competition created considerable interest. Wallie Brynjolfsson had the best gross score, taking 282 strokes for seventy-two holes.

The prizes will be presented to the winners at 1 p.m. on October 19. The net score was as follows:

Louis Glazen 265, J. R. Hiberson 270, C. W. Brooke 277, S. L. Hall 279, R. Peachey 281, D. Gordon 282, A. F. Thomas 287, S. H. De Carteret 288, G. C. Baker 289, A. M. D. Fairbairn 280, S. A. Selinger 322, L. B. Trimen 325, C. W. Loveland 344.

It was a kicking game, with the Tiger rear guards having the edge. On the line the teams were in front 2 to 1 at the first quarter, and there was no change in standing up to half time. The locals made it 3 to 1 in the third quarter, and in the last fifteen minutes swelled the count to 6 to 1.

With coal at $12.50 a ton it means a great deal to be able to reduce your fuel consumption one-third to half. That is actually what the Caloric accomplishes. SHANGHAI SUFFERS TRADE REVERSES BY INTERNECINE WAR

Refugees Crowd Foreign Homes in Shanghai From Afflicted Districts

American Business Man Here
Says Textile Auctions Suspended

While the distant roar of artillery reminds the people of Shanghai that warring actors are engaged in hostilities within about twelve miles of the city, Shanghai goes about its business under the shadow of financial depression.

The depression, explained W. D. Hopson, who is taking his family home, and passed through last evening on the liner President McKinley, is due to the fact that Chinese merchants are not buying imports owing to the uncertainty, and probable assurance that they will not be able to sell for some months.

The textile auctions, which were a feature of Shanghai commercial life, were suspended in August, states Mr. Hopson, who is manager for the General Motors Company in Shanghai. The motor business, among foreign customers, is going on about as usual, but in other towns it has been practically suspended, as the Chinese are uncertain about the future and credit is scarce.

The extension of the neutral zone around Shanghai is the subject of negotiation, it being found that the undertaking to abstain from hostilities in the Whangpo area hardly goes far enough. While the Allies are unwilling to intervene, the Chinese are somewhat indisposed to respect the undertakings given from Peking of neutrality.

Just before the steamer left, Mr. Hopson says the fighting, which nearly always takes place at night, there being an unusual calm by day, particularly during the meal hours, had to be suspended while both sides secured fresh supplies of ammunition. A certain quantity has to be fired by the artillery nightly, to demonstrate continuation of the war, so a handicap like lack of ammunition has been troublesome to the contending parties, who are entrenched waiting for something to turn up, either from Manchuria or elsewhere.

Meanwhile the wounded are brought into the Red Cross hospitals at Shanghai, and many refugees are crowding into the city.

One uncommon aspect of the outbreak of hostilities between the Chinese and the Red Cross troops is that no foreigner in Shanghai knows how many servants he keeps. Mr. Hopson stated, The Chinese servants have brought their relatives to the city, and are sheltering them there, so that the kitchens resemble in many residences refugee hordes. This quaint aspect is presenting a new problem, inevitable owing to the proximity to the conflict, and the protection given by the international and French settlements.

The President McKinley left here shortly after midnight for Seattle, and will there discharge the greater part of her freight and allow all her passengers to disembark.

FRENCH INFLUENCE IN SOUTH CHINA

Province of Yunnan is Closely Influenced by Adjacent French Territory

French influence in Southern China is growing, according to Acton Poulet, district manager of the Standard Oil Company at Saigon, who passed through on the liner President McKinley last evening from the Orient en route to New York.

For a long time French influence in Yunnan has dominated all other powers, and there is no doubt, he thinks, that if partition of China followed that France would attempt to establish a foothold there. He believes that the French missionary fathers are rather jealous of other nationalities operating in that field, though there has been no open clash.

The French are giving a vigorous administration to Indo-China, fully justifying the encomiums passed by the late Lord Northcliffe on his world tour, when he praised the French and Dutch Asiatic administrations in that part of the world and in the East Indies. French influence on the Chinese political situation is growing, Mr. Poulet thinks. There have been some financial problems to be solved, but on the whole Indo-China is regarded as a prosperous country.

Mr. Poulet says there are not many Americans in that section, but that official relation to the foreigners is friendly. Some of the foreigners have rendered themselves a little unpopular by pseudo-political discussions with the natives, but on the whole the racial relations are satisfactory. The French are teaching the aborigines many useful arts, and the effect is shown in the increased business with other countries.

EMPRESS CARRIED SUITS ENVOYARY

Cantonese Government Sent
General to Tokio to Sound
Out Situation

AS AN INSTANCE of the effort to conciliate Japanese opinion, on the liner Empress of Japan, which departed to-day from Hongkong, there passed through from Hongkong to Kobe General Li-Lieh-Chun, a general in the employment of Dr. Sun Yat Sen at Canton. While ostensibly traveling for pleasure, the General, who was accompanied by his family, and an English speaking secretary, carried it is stated, messages from the Cantonese Government to the Imperial Japanese Government looking to friendly relations.

Color was given to the political character of the tour, which was scored under a sight-seeing tour at Kobe before the General left by train for Tokio, by the appearance of a son of Sun Yat Sen who traveled on the steamer from Hongkong to Shanghai, where he left the vessel, and got away before being questioned by the press men at that port.

Japanese influence in the Chinese situation, it is stated, is growing, so many points of contact over the widely scattered area being affected by Japanese industrial and commercial relationships.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STEAMSHIP PORT

Russia Brought 2,800 Tons of Freight From Orient

Bringing a total of 311 passengers and 2,800 tons of general cargo, in the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Russia arrived in port at 9:20 this morning. Of the total of passengers, 185 were from Japan, and the remainder had their destinations either in America or some point in Europe. The number of cabin passengers was comparatively small, but the travel from the Orient not being high at this time of year, this is to be expected. There were about seventy passengers traveling in first and second class.

The ship's cargo consisted in the main of silk, tea, hemp and tobacco. There were about 100 tons dropped at Victoria, but the remaining 2,700 tons went on to the most important destinations.

Commander of the vessel, stated this morning on the ship's arrival that the voyage had been a pleasant one, and for the most part only the most enjoyable weather was experienced in passage.

"About half way across," said Capt. Hosken, "we were struck by heavy fog, but it was not a little, since they piled up a heavy sea astern. But we made good time nevertheless. There was a little fog this morning, but nothing of a serious nature, and the weather very fair, considering the season."

The Empress of Russia carried a number of distinguished passengers, among whom were Dr. Otto Willner, who has been in the Orient for some months past, attached to the medical staff of the Union Medical College, Peking; Campbell Prosser, a well-known barrister of Hongkong, on vacation in Canada; E. P. Williams, Far Eastern representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia; N. S. Shukuma, prominent marine insurance man; Mrs. T. R. Percy, wife of the general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Steamships; Sidney K. Cohen, New York business man who has to proceed by the afternoon boat to Seattle; T. Okada, manager in London for the Yamaguchi Company of Osaka; and a party of Japanese en route to the International Opium Conference at Geneva.

CHINESE ARMIES WELL EQUIPPED WITH ARTILLERY

"Camouflage," Not in Chinese Dictionary, Says
Benjamin Tye

Opposing forces of Kiang-su and Chekiang provinces on the outskirts of Shanghai are equipped with the most modern artillery, according to Benjamin W. Tye, novelty exporter of Shanghai, who arrived here last night on board the Admiral-Orlando Line steamship President McKinley.

"The Chinese armies are equipped with guns patterned after the famous French 75's anti-machine guns are greatly in evidence on both sides," said Mr. Tye.

When Mr. Tye left Shanghai the opposing forces were within twelve miles of the city, and the continual booming of guns keeps the populace in a state of perturbation as to possible eventualities.

In describing the comical features of the combat, Mr. Tye stated that the Chinese, in marked contrast to the tactics adopted in modern warfare, haul their guns to the top of a hill and hoist a red flag before opening fire.

RIFLES AND UMBRELLAS
The Chinese soldiers when on the march, he says, carry a rifle on one shoulder and an umbrella on the other. When it rains they refuse to fight, which explains the recent cable reports of cessation of fighting because of rain.

Up to a few weeks ago, civilians of Shanghai were in the habit of visiting the front lines of the Chinese forces.

Mr. Tye brought back with him photographs of civilian parties, including ladies, who made the trip to the lines outside Shanghai.

Hostilities in China will go on for a lengthy period, Mr. Tye believes. Shanghai is well protected by foreign

ENGINEER OPERATED ON AT SEA RETURNED HERE ON PRESIDENT MCKINLEY

Alomat completely recovered from the effects of a major operation performed at sea, Dr. H. O'Brien, chief surgeon of the freighter Wawona, arrived here last night from Yokohama on board the liner President McKinley.

Two weeks ago Mr. O'Brien was dangerously ill aboard the Wawona heading for the Japan coast. Last night he was in the dining-saloon of the President McKinley eating dinner.

He owes his life to radio and the surgical skill of the ship's surgeon, of the liner President Jefferson.

When Mr. O'Brien was taken ill at sea, the chief steward of the Wawona prepared a wireless message with such detail as to the symptoms that when the message was picked up by the President McKinley, bound to the Orient, Dr. Ostergaard, ship's surgeon, was able to diagnose the case and have everything ready for a major operation. The suffering chief engineer was transferred by boat from the Wawona to the President McKinley and an operation for gall stones was immediately performed successfully.

The invalid was taken to hospital on arrival at Yokohama and later transferred on a stretcher to the President McKinley, homeward bound.

The President McKinley docked at the Rithet piers last night for the first time since the Pine Tree State crashed into the outer docks and did considerable damage. But henceforth the Ogden Point docks will not be utilized, it is understood, by this line.

There were a number of prominent passengers on board the McKinley last night. When she left here, about midnight, the following were on their way to Seattle.

Ira L. Bronson is returning to Seattle after a short business trip in the Orient. He is representing Bronson, Robinson and Johnson, attorneys for the Sumitomo Bank in Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bergman with their son John Bergman, are returning to Seattle. Mr. Bergman has been engaged in lumbering in the S. Philippine Islands. Chas. H. Leavitt is travelling to Portland, Oregon. Mr. Leavitt was with the U. S. Government in Manila as veterinarian. Acton Poulet, who is Saigon's district manager for the Standard Oil Co. of New York, who is also Vice-Consul of the United States of America in Saigon, is travelling to New York on a vacation; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hopson with their two daughters, Jean and Phyllis, are travelling to United States on home leave. W. D. Hopson has been manager at Shanghai branch for the General Motors Export Co.; John Horv is returning home in Ohio. He was visiting relatives in Foochow, China; Clyde Craddock is returning to United States from China. Mr. Craddock is with the Myers Tobacco Co.; J. R. Garner is returning to United States from the Orient. Mr. Garner is the Oriental representative of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., St. Louis and Boston.
